

GO TO NOTE SUN ECLIPSE

Expedition Leaves Lick Observatory for Isolated Point in Australia

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The third section of the William H. Crocker expedition from Lick Observatory, Mount Hamilton, Cal., to the isolated outpost of Wallal, Australia, to observe the total eclipse of the sun September 21, departed for Sydney Friday on the steamer Tahiti. Director W. W. Campbell of the observatory is in charge of the party leaving today.

The first section of the expedition, equipped with five tons of astronomical instruments and supplies, is in Tahiti making observations on the Einstein theory of the relativity of planetary gravity to the light of other stars or planets. The second section of the expedition, with an additional seven tons of instruments and other equipment, left San Francisco for Sydney June 13. The first and second sections will unite at Sydney this month.

COMPLETE EXPEDITION.—The complete expedition will start from Fremantle about August 15, traveling from that point about 150 miles by steamer to Broome, the guests of the commonwealth government. It then will go to Wallal, which will be reached on or before September 1, according to present plan.

On this 30-mile stretch on the beach 20 degrees south of the equator, the expedition will set up its plant for recording the eclipse which will have a total phase of five minutes at the point selected. Pre-eclipse and post-eclipse observations will be as carefully and as completely recorded as the total phase.

Wallal is a combined postoffice and telegraph station, the inhabitants consisting only of the postmaster, his family, the staff of a sheep ranch and a number of aborigines. It was selected for the expedition because of September atmospheric conditions, it having rained but twice in the last 26 Septembers at this point.

N. E. A. ELECTS OWEN AS HEAD

Delegates Approve Towner-Sterling Bill to Support Schools

BOSTON, July 8.—The convention of the National Education association, which has been in session here nearly a week, adjourned Friday after adopting numerous resolutions and electing officers for the ensuing term. William B. Owen, president of the Chicago Normal college, was named president. The delegates expressed their unqualified approval of the Towner-Sterling bill and declared their belief that the states should assume "a much larger responsibility for the adequate support of schools and that at least one-half of the school revenues should be derived from state income."

Other resolutions approved training in American citizenship and permanent tenure for teachers during efficiency and good behavior. Advocates retirement funds and expressed unqualified opposition to any reduction in teachers' salaries.

CRITICISMS RE-ELECTED.—J. W. Carter, of Washington, D. C., secretary, who was re-elected to that office, reported that the association membership had reached more than 15,000, making the largest teachers' organization in the world. Twelve thousand delegates attended the convention, he said.

Corneille A. Adair, of Richmond, Va., was elected treasurer. Miss C. Ormond Williams, the retiring president, was first vice president. The other vice presidents included Minnie J. Nelson, state superintendent of public instruction in Minnesota, Iowa, F. Gelder, superintendent of schools, Tacoma, Wash., and C. N. Jensen, state superintendent of public instruction, Salt Lake City.

CHINA FACES NEW MENACE

Growing Strength of Dr. Sun Is Viewed With Alarm

PEKING, July 8.—(By the Associated Press).—China torn by civil war for five years past, apparently faces a renewal of the condition almost at the very moment when the more optimistic among her leaders hoped that she was about to enter a period of peace.

The new menace to a pacific condition is the growing strength of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, president of the overthrown Chinese government of China, which is backed by Sun's off-expressed determination to die in support of what he believes to be the logical method of satisfying China rather than to accede to the proposals of his opponents.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS.—Canton advises to foreign legations here Friday brought word that Sun's supporters were increasing in numbers and power and conflict with Chen Chiung-ming and his army was inevitable. Efforts of General Ngai Hong-ping to mediate between Sun and Chen seemed to have failed.

For some time a movement to mediate the differences between Dr. Sun and Chen has been afoot, with the hope of a successful outcome. But of late less has been heard of the mediation movement and Friday word came that the situation had assumed a serious aspect.

SUN AT WHAMPOA.—Sun, at last reports, was at Whampoa, near Canton, with naval vessels which had remained loyal to him and with a force of 2000 men at his command. His main force, that which invaded Kiangsi province, was reported to be disposing itself for a fight with Chen's army and it was said that Sun was waiting only the arrival of these troops to initiate an attack on Chen.

ALIBIS MAY INVADE.—China's inability to control disorderly elements of her own population has brought her face to face with the possibility that armed aliens again will establish themselves within her domain.

Bandits who attacked a Japanese consular establishment near Chienlo in Manchuria, near the Korean border, and slew two Japanese, are the offenders who have caused the Japanese republic to this tangible evidence of her weakness. The Japanese government has made bitter protest as a result of the disorders, Minister Obata making it clear that if China does not maintain order in this district, that Japan will do so.

WAR ON BANDITS.—Mr. Obata's warning was to the effect that unless China's actions rendered the step unnecessary, Japanese troops or Japanese constabulary would be sent to Chienlo. Japan until recently had troops there. It was noted that if China does not maintain order in this district, that Japan will do so.

China, in her reply to Mr. Obata's admonition, announced that she was making vigorous efforts to eliminate the bandits.

HOPES TO FOLLOW
IN DAD'S FOOTSTEPS.—Warren, Ohio, July 8.—Leon (Red) Ames Jr., 15-year-old son of Leon (Red) Ames, major league pitcher for 15 years, today is pitching to perpetuate the face of his father.

Young Ames has been the star twirler of the Warren, Ohio, Orioles and Athletics for the last two seasons, letting the opposition down with one and two hits on many occasions. He is credited with the biggest sensation in Warren baseball circles since the days of his father, Dode Paskert and Terry Turner starred on diamonds at that place.

The youngster has the same style of delivery that enabled his father to remain in the big leagues for so many years. He looks like his father and has red hair.

Ames Sr. is paying considerable attention to the development of his son, in perfecting a break to his fast ball.

Joining the New York Giants in 1903 the elder Ames twirled for New York for ten years and was one of the club's leading moundmen in three world series. Upon leaving the Giants he was in the Cincinnati Reds for three and a half years, before he came to Warren, St. Louis Cardinals. After 15 years in the big leagues, he was sold by St. Louis to Kansas City in the American league, where he played until his recent release.

TALE OF BANK JOB
STARTLES COURT.—CHICAGO, July 8.—William Carter, alias William Burns, up for sentence for forgery at La Crosse, Wis., was questioned in the district court about his past life.

His record seemed clean up to the time of the forgery, until he quietly remarked: "The last job I did was at a bank at Black River Falls, Wisconsin."

The auditor of the courtroom leaned forward with renewed interest. The judge looked grave.

"What kind of a job?" the judge asked sternly.

Carter replied meekly: "I cleaned the bank chimney."

NO AGREEMENT ON
'WILDCAT' GROUND.—NEW YORK, July 8.—Conferences between Senor de la Huerta, Mexican minister of finance and American oil executives, relating to a plan for the development of "wildcat" oil territory in Mexico have ended without an agreement.

Senor de la Huerta, who issued a statement Friday announced that his mission "consisted only in hearing the propositions made by the companies around the representations," declared later that he regarded his mission as successful and at the office of one of the five companies involved, it was stated that "reasonable progress had been made."

TO BUILD MONSTER
GARAGE IN DETROIT.—DETROIT, July 8.—A municipal garage, stories high, with 270,000 square feet of floor space, is expected to be ready for use at Detroit Mich., within the next three months. It will cost about $600,000 and will be stored place and repair shop for 700 vehicles owned by the city. Three gasoline tanks, each holding 15,000 gallons will be placed underground, outside the building, and will be filled by pumping from a railroad track a block distant.

There are nearly 12,000 tool-makers in Michigan.

MINER LEAVES TRAIL OF GOLD

Police Investigate Disappearance of Alaskan at Greenwich Village

NEW YORK, July 8.—(By the Associated Press).—A trail of gold, leading out of Greenwich Village to an uptown hotel today, was the only thing left to connect Alva C. Kendall, Alaska miner, with his haunts of more than a year. Kendall disappeared last Wednesday, and when he went it is believed he had $100,000 in his pocket.

He dropped out of sight in the busiest section of busy Fifth avenue, a clerk in a jewelry store, who knew him, got a fleeting glance of him about 5:15 in the afternoon. No one else could identify him since.

The trail of gold was picked up today in the home of Mrs. Mary P. Smith, where Kendall roomed. Mrs. Smith said he often paid his room rent in gold and showed at least five $10 gold pieces to prove it. Across the street the manager of a cigar store had one of the gold pieces, and a taxi driver who often drove the Alaskan, had another. Up at the Pennsylvania hotel a bell boy had one, given him as a tip, he said.

KNEW HIM SLIGHTLY.—Mrs. Smith said today that she knew very little about her guest. He was silent on his experiences in Alaska, she said, but she believed he was a successful miner. She said she had seen him in the street, and often carried a large portion of his fortune in his trunk—all in gold. And it was because he liked to carry gold, she said, that she knew him.

Kendall slept Tuesday in the Pennsylvania hotel. He had slept there for some time, she said, because his room at his home was being renovated. Tuesday night he gave the bell boy a tip—the $10 gold piece. He appeared in normal condition, the boys said today.

SCATTERS GOLD.—Wednesday morning he returned to Greenwich Village and gave a cigar store man a $10 gold piece in payment for two boxes of cigars, which he took with him. The cigars are not at Mrs. Smith's house and there was no trace of them at the hotel.

After that purchase he walked across the street and had dinner with Mrs. Smith as usual. At 3:30 he said he was going up to Forty-eighth street and Fifth avenue to have diamonds reset. The jewelry store there has no record of doing work for him, but at least two clerks knew him. One of them, Thomas A. Howland, said today that a little after five he saw Kendall approach the store, stop for a minute in the doorway and then walk south rapidly. That was the last that has been seen of him.

PLAYED ON PRINCETON.—Kendall is said to be about 38 years old. He is said to have played football back on Princeton's football team, but there is no record of a Kendall on that team. He weighed about 180 pounds and was 5 feet 11 inches tall.

Almost a year ago he came out of Alaska to the Smith home. He deposited most of his fortune in a bank—she does not know the name. Then he set about enjoying New York.

Last Monday, she said, he drew some money. How much she does not know, but on Wednesday, she said, he showed her three thousand dollars. She said she had more like them in his pocket. For that reason she fears something may have happened to him, although she admits the possibility that he may have gone back to Alaska, as he complained of being bored.

A general alarm was sent out by the police but no results were obtained.

LITTLE SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

Sentence of from one to 20 years in the state prison was imposed this morning by Judge James N. Kimball upon Sterling Little, of Ogden, after the young man had pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery.

The charge against Little was the forgery of a check for $5.50 which he is alleged to have passed upon the Western National bank of Ogden.

Little appeared willing to take his punishment for the alleged crime and waived every obstacle that might prevent the immediate beginning of sentence. He was sentenced to the state prison for one to 20 years.

Little will be taken to the state prison on Tuesday.

BOY IS INJURED IN
FALL FROM WAGON.—Roland Bingham, 7-year-old son of S. J. Bingham of Riverdale, sustained painful injuries yesterday afternoon, when he fell from a wagon in which he was riding. The accident occurred while the boy was riding with his father and Washington avenue when the wagon was crossing the intersection.

The lad fell from a pile of crates and struck his head on the pavement, the impact rendering him unconscious. He was taken to the home of Mrs. A. C. McKinney, 2875 Washington avenue and was attended by Dr. Ezra C. Rich, and later returned to his home. His condition is not regarded as serious unless complications set in.

COMPLETE REPAIRS ON HARRISON AVE.

Repairing of the Harrison avenue hard-surfaced road has been completed by a corps of workers under the direction of George Welch, city street supervisor. This provides a fairly good road from the intersection of Twenty-fourth street to the top of the dugway, a distance of approximately half a mile. It is likely that the work will be continued down the dugway and to the mouth of the canyon in event the stretch is not paved.

UTAH REPUBLICANS TO HOLD OUTING

Harry Joseph and J. Parley White, both of Salt Lake, were in Ogden Friday stirring up interest in the annual outing of the Young Men's Republican club of the state at Lagoon July 13, the day before the state convention in Salt Lake.

The Salt Lake men said they hoped to make the event a joyful reunion of Utah Republicans and they expected a large attendance from Ogden.

BENEFIT DANCE FOR SHOPMEN

Strikers to Participate in Event July 13; Local Situation Satisfactory

The striking shopmen will give a benefit dance at the White City on Thursday, July 13, according to an announcement of the publicity committee today. The statement set forth that the strikers are satisfied with the situation. "We promised yesterday to explain the dummy contract system. Any fair-minded person would have been satisfied with the reductions the wage board had made and the carriers, who the railroad executives were not fair-minded—the conditions the wage board gave them were not enough and they gave us an example of the manner in which they obey the law, by introducing the dummy contract system. This system operates in the following manner: the shops with all their facilities, including their management and forces are summarily turned over to some individuals or so-called company (for example the Jersey City terminal of the Erie R. R. was turned over to a horse manure dealer).

DESCRIBE HIS DUTIES.—"The only thing that this individual or company as the case may be is to sign the pay checks—the former management notifying the employees that they are no longer under the provisions of the wage board of the Transportation Act of 1920 and that their wages will be reduced, that they have no rules or conditions under which to work that they will work piece work or any other thing, and the railroad roads through the dummy contract system fit to inflict."

"The extent to which this humiliation has been carried may be judged by cases of men who are working for as low as 25 cents per hour, where piece workers receive less than $3 for a week's work. And these men tolerated these conditions out of respect for the law."

HOW IT WORKED.—"The rules as laid down by the wage board when they abrogated the national agreement subject to the same abuse on the part of the executives, the management on at least a part of the railroads placing the most idiotic interpretations on the language of the wage board and representing the men as attempting to enter with them their invariable answer was, 'that's my interpretation of the rule—if you differ with me make a grievance and present it to the board.'"

"The board, our representative would ask for a submission the management would deny it and the wage board placed at least in second place, ex parte submissions. An example of this was the Pacific railroad. Approximately the following remarks passed between Southern Pacific representatives and the wage board's examiner. The examiner asked the railroad representative to submit a grievance on Southern Pacific lines, such grievance reaching this board and the board deciding in favor of Bill Smith, would this decision be put into effect on the Southern Pacific system?"

"Yes sir."

"Examiner: If Bill Smith died on the day this decision was rendered and Sam Jones had a similar grievance, would Sam Jones receive the benefit of the decision rendered in favor of Bill Smith?"

"Southern Pacific representative: 'No sir.'"

"Examiner: That's enough for me."

FLOODED WITH DISPUTES.—"The public should understand that pending all decisions of the wage board, the rules of the carriers are in effect. This means that thousands of cases in one decision, while at least the Southern Pacific officials have proven time and again that it is their aim to force every individual case to the wage board for adjustment. Many other roads use the same tactics, thereby flooding the wage board with disputes which are useless. It takes in the neighborhood of six months to get a case from its inception to the board, our readers can therefore see the patience with which the railroad men have tolerated these indignities."

"When the case of the dummy contractors finally got to the wage board, it could be nothing but favorable to the men. And then injunctions began to fly. This phase of the situation we will cover in tomorrow's article."

Judging from the number of men who have returned to work after experiencing a day or so of what they have inside, coming out against this dummy wage board, it is likely that the local officials are not believing that another strike has been called. The further curtailment of train service throughout the country gives the most complete proof of the effectiveness of the strike."

In and around Sacramento and Roseville, Calif., the entire fruit crop, valued at more than $2,500,000 is threatened with total loss because of the inability of the Southern Pacific to move same and shopmen never expected their strike to have any noticeable effect for at least two weeks. Never in the history of organized labor has any struggle appeared so encouraging to the workers."
